MAY GET TWO CONGRESSMEN

Latest Census Gives Arizona a Population of 333,200.

Phoenix, Dec.—Arizona will in all probability be represented in congress by two representatives instead of one, when the new apportionment based on the 1920 census is made by congress.

This is the opinion of Chas. R. Howe, state tax commissioner, who calls attention to the fact that the latest census figures give Arizona a population of 333,200. In discussing the probabilities Howe said:

"The present apportionment is one representative to every 211,000 or major fraction thereof. Under this arrangement Arizona would be entitled to two legislative districts and two congressmen. With every new census it has always been a problem with congress as to what unit of population should be used and with every new allotment figure the membership of the lower house has been increased.

"If the same unit of 211,000 is to be used, the membership of the house, which is already considered unwieldy will be increased by 50 to 60 members. In all probability the unit figure for the districts will have to be increased to take care of the situation, though the history of the matter has been that these unit figures are increased very slightly with each successive increase in population. In other words there has been natural inclination on the part of congressmen not to vote in favor of any proposition which would decrease the number of congressmen from their particular state.

"In view of this it is hardly likely that the unit figure will be increased to more than 220,000 and this figure has been named as a logical compromise in the present situation. If this goes through Arizona would still have enough population to justify two representatives and two districts would have to be formed. Whether the state would be divided by a north and south line or by one running east and west or by a zigzag line from one corner to the other would have to be decided by those entrusted with solving the problem of dividing the state into two portions in which the population would be equalized."

ARIZONA'S EDUCATORS.

School Salaries of State Nearly Four Million Dollars.

Phoenix.—The total combined annual salaries of superintendents, principals and teachers of the state amounts to $3,713,264.55, with Maricopa county taking the lead with $1,087,285.53, according to the Arizona educational directory, which was issued yesterday. The directory was prepared by C. O. Case, state superintendent of public instruction, and it lists the school officers of the state as well as the school teachers, giving their address and salaries. The directory also contains the rules and regulations governing the certification of teachers for the state.

The lowest monthly salary paid a one room rural school teacher in the state is $100, the highest salary being $175, while the city schools furnish a higher average. The feature is made of the one room rural school, where the teacher shortage is felt in the opening of the fall term. According to the record the average rate of increase in salary of the one room rural school teacher in Maricopa county is 29 per cent, while the averages in other counties are: Apache, 27 per cent; Cochise, 61 1/2 per cent; Coconino, 25 per cent; Gila, 45 per cent; Graham, 27 per cent; Greenlee, 34 per cent; Mohave, 37 per cent; Navajo, 25 per cent; Pima, 20 per cent; Pinal, 45 per cent; Santa Cruz 179 per cent; Yavapai, 21 per cent and Yuma, 24 per cent.

The average monthly salary, calculated on a 12 months basis in common and high schools in Maricopa county for superintendents and principals in cities is given at $304.60; assistant principals, $193.82; high school teachers, $170.21; grade teachers in cities, towns and large rural districts, $129.30; principals in rural schools, $156.22, and teachers in one room schools, $96.11.

WAR VETS SEEK LEGISLATION.

Phoenix, Dec.—The Phoenix Camp of Spanish war veterans announced today it would call on the Spanish war veterans in the state to file their names and addresses with the local camp in line with a project to urge enactment of beneficial legislation. Belief was expressed here that there probably are 1000 veterans in the state.

A legislative committee has been appointed to draft proposed measures. It was understood one such measure would provide preferential rights to Spanish war veterans in matters affecting employment. Exemption from taxation up to a certain amount would be asked while burial provisions would be stipulated.

The legislative committee consists of Captain J. L. B. Alexander, chairman; Superior Judge R. C. Stanford, James P. Lavin, F. C. Struckmeyer and R. E. L. Sheppard.

Annual election of officers of the Phoenix camp will be held the second Tuesday in January. The nominating committee consists of Adjutant General Walter S. Ingalls, Con P. Cronin and J. H. Spear.

REACHING THE LIMIT.

Copper, lead and zinc, which make up the bulk of the great western metal industry have been struggling for their existence for two years with wartime wages and overhead expense and peace time prices. European buyers who were formerly our heavy consumers, have been unable to purchase, due to exchange conditions. The mines have made a heroic effort to keep up operations and maintain wages and as a last resort copper producers are attempting to stimulate consumption by introducing copper, the everlasting metal, into more general use in home utensils, roofing, window frames and sash, automobile trimmings and for many other commercial purposes where permanency is desirable.—Ex.

WILL OPEN ARMORY.

Phoenix, Dec.—Formal opening of the Flagstaff armory will be held on the return of Governor Campbell from the east, it was announced today by Adjutant General Walter S. Ingalls. Colonel Ingalls said he had not been informed as to the plans for the opening, but that the governor would be present. The adjutant general will also be there, he said, for he was particularly pleased with the spirit shown in Flagstaff with respect to the national guard.

BEAUTIFY THE PARK.

Col. Richardson is having the trees in the park, located near the new Methodist church, pruned this week and it is making the place look much better. A. H. Glidewell is doing the work and is making a first class job of it. It is to be hoped that others will assist in beautifying this park between now and spring. There is much work yet to be done in order to make it what it ought to be. You must bear in mind that this is no longer the property of Col. Richardson, as he donated it to the town of Patagonia, and it is now the property of the citizens of the town of Patagonia and they should all feel a personal interest in it. A united effort should be made to beautify this park.—Santa Cruz Patagonian.
